DREADFUL KILLINGS AT CRAB ORCHARD

Deputy Town Marshal Lige Hoskins
Kills Walter Wallin and is Himself Shot by Jake Wallin

Crab Orchard was the scene of a double killing on Saturday night just before Christmas which cast a feeling of sadness and sorrow over all who heard of it during what should prove the happiest season of the year.

Walter Wallin, one of the best known farmers in the East End, and Elijah Hoskins, deputy marshal of Crab Orchard, are the two men who lost their lives in the unfortunate affair. Wallin was shot through the heart by Hoskins and died almost instantly, and a few minutes later Jake Wallin pumped four bullets into Hoskins, wounding him so severely that he died a few hours later. Jake Wallin and his nephew young Ernest Wallin, a son of Dud Wallin, were arrested, charged with murder. County Judge Bailey appointed Deputy Sheriff W. S. Embury as a guard for them until their examining trial can be held Thursday. Judge J. W. Alcorn and his son, K. S. Alcorn are the attorneys who will defend them.

Reports concerning the affair vary, and the true facts will probably not be known until the testimony of all the eye witnesses is in at the examining trial.

Not until Sheriff W. L. McCarty and Coroner George P. Bright went up to Crab Orchard Sunday morning to make an investigation and hold an inquest were the details learned here concerning the fearful affair. According to the information gathered by Sheriff McCarty, the shooting affray Saturday night had its beginning one day last week when John Riddle, proprietor of a soft drink stand at Crab Orchard, had some slight trouble with one of the Wallin men. It is said that Riddle drew his gun on Wallin, who was unarmed at the time and gave him some stiff talk. The next day Wallin is said to have returned to town ready for business, and this time he got the drop on Riddle and made him eat his words of the day before.

Sheriff McCarty was told that on Saturday the next day, quite a number of both the Wallin and Riddle families came to town armed and ready for trouble. It seemed that news of the little difficulty between Wallin and Riddle had become generally known among their friends and kinsmen, and each side was determined not to have to take anything from the other.

When he saw how things were going Saturday, Dud Wallin, who lives in the Cedar Creek section and is one of the most respected and best known members of that family, being the oldest of the eight brothers, went to John Riddle and had a little quiet talk with him. Mr. Wallin and Riddle had always been good friends. He told Riddle that he regretted that affairs had come to the pass that they had; and then asked him as a friend to go home and stay there until Sunday morning. Mr. Wallin is said to have told Riddle that his brothers were in town mad and drinking and he was unable to control them and he believed that the best way to avoid trouble would be for Riddle to go home and stay there for the remainder of the day. Riddle at first demurred, it is said, on the ground that he could not afford to leave his business, but Mr. Wallin finally convinced him that it was the sensible thing to do and he went, promising Mr. Wallin that he would not come out any more that day.

Later in the day while Riddle was still at home, Walter Wallin, with who Mr. Riddle is said to have had the first trouble, went to Riddle's house and tried to get him out, but Mr. Riddle is said to have written him a note, telling him of the promise made Dud Wallin and refusing to come out for trouble.

Towards evening Dud Wallin, Walter Wallin, young Ernest Wallin a son of Dud Wallin and several other men were in Riddle's place, and were in front of the bar when Deputy Marshal Hoskins went in. Dud Wallin is said to have remarked to him:

"It looks like you have been following us around all day."

To this Hoskins is said to have replied that such had not been his intention.

Mr. Wallin is then said to have asked Hoskins if he was a policeman, and when Hoskins admitted that he was, Mr. Wallin is said to have told him to take his hand out of his pocket, if he did not want to arrest him.

Hoskins is alleged to have answered that he saw no particular reason compelling him to take his hand out of his pocket. Then it is said that Walter Wallin drew his gun and told Hoskins that if he did not do so, he would kill him. Hoskins, in his dying statement is said to have declared that thereupon Walter Wallin fired one shot at him, striking him in the leg. Hoskins immediately came out with his own pistol and shot Walter Wallin through the heart, killing him almost instantly. He then fired four times more, emptying his pistol. The first shot however, had caused the lights to go out, and in the firing in the darkness, Dud Wallin caught a bullet in a leg, a bullet grazed the top of Ernest Wallin's head and Ben Howard, a bystander was also wounded in the thigh.

As Hoskins backed out the door, young Ernest Wallin, a boy about 18 years old, threw himself on him and tried to trip him up, it seemed to those who saw it.

Just at that moment, Jake Wallin another brother of Dud and Walter, who had been across the street near the Campbell & Pettus drug store, came running up at the sound of the shooting. He asked a man what was happening inside, but the man was unable to tell him. He then saw Hoskins coming out the door with young Ernest Wallin grappling with him, and Hoskins trying to beat him off, and running up to Hoskins, he emptied his pistol into him, Hoskins falling to the ground mortally wounded.

This is the story of the killings as told to Sheriff McCarty when he went to Crab Orchard to arrest Jake Wallin. As Hoskins did not die until Sunday morning, Wallin was released under $1,000 bond. When Hoskins died, however, a warrant charging murder, was sworn out, and after the funeral of his brother Sunday, he was brought to Stanford by Sheriff McCarty, arriving early Tuesday morning. Judge Bailey fixed Thursday for the examining trial. Ebert Wallin, another brother, who is a detective on the O. & C. railroad, and Arthur Wallin, who now lives in Ohio, but had come back to his old home to spend Christmas, came down with the prisoner, as did also a number of his nephews. Ernest Wallin was also brought down as a prisoner, but it is believed that the charge against him will be speedily dismissed, as he had no hand in the killings.

Friends of Wallin say that he will make a strong defense in his examining trial, and it is expected his attorneys will endeavor to secure his release at that time. It is reported that he will plead that in firing upon Hoskins, he simply did so in defense of his nephew, Ernest Wallin, who, he will allege, was being beaten over the head by Hoskins with the butt of his pistol.

The deaths of both Walter Wallin and Hoskins came as severe blows to their families. Wallin is survived by his wife and two children, his wife having been a daughter of former Squire J. T. Roberts, of the Hubble section. Mrs. Wallin was prostrated, and is in a serious condition. The aged mother of Mr. Wallin is also in a serious condition as a result of the great shock.

The death of Mr. Hoskins is a great loss to his family, as his wife and six children were dependent upon him. Both of the dead men were about 40 years of age. The Wallins have lived in Lincoln county from early days but Hoskins is said to have removed here not many years ago from Bell county.

COURT MARTIAL FOR CASWELL SAUFLEY.

But Stanford Boy In Navy Is In The Right And Will "Show Up"
His Accusers At Trial.

A dispatch from Washington in Sunday's papers told of the arrest of Ensign R. Caswell Saufley, of the United States Navy, a son of the late Judge M. C. Saufley, of this city. The many friends of this popular Stanford boy were satisfied he was in the right and this dispatch in Wednesday's Courier-Journal seems to prove it:

Washington, Dec. 26.—The court martial of Ensign Richard C. Saufley, of Kentucky, to begin at Norfolk to-day, may develop into more trouble for the Navy Department and for Commandant Patton, of the Norfolk yard, than for Saufley. At least, this view is taken by friends of Saufley, who tell a story of superiors risking men's lives in unseaworthy tubs and enforcing private grudges. These facts, they say will come out during the trial.

According to his friends, Saufley will be absolutely exonerated by the court-martial, but Commandant Patton is likely to be reprimanded for ordering out the torpedo boat Biddle for night trip through Hampton Roads. Senator Bradley, who has been active in the matter, told this story of Saufley's troubles with the Commandant to-day, based, he believes, on accurate information:

"Saufley was ordered off the Kansas, on which he had been stationed ever since his graduation, to take command of the Biddle, not the Barry, then laid up at Charleston, S. C. She was one of a number of debilitated boats of her kind, which has been beached by a typhoon, and had a bad name for unseaworthiness in the navy. Up to the time he went aboard her, Saufley had an excellent record.

"He was ordered to take her to Norfolk, which, without demur, although he knew her condition, and amid many perils, he accomplished. In her he made several trips from Norfolk to Annapolis and finally took her to the New York review and back, a rough journey, in which he nearly lost the boat and all concerned, owing to her condition.

"Her navigation instruments were deranged; there were seams in her just above the water line, and she carried water in her hold. Still he made no formal protest in his command.

"Several days ago Saufley was ordered to take the Biddle to Cape Henry, with supplies for a wrecked collier. He did so. But her condition grew so constantly worse that Saufley began to fear that she could make few more trips. He told his superior officer about her.

"What must have been his surprise when he received orders to sail with her that day again to Cape Henry, despite the fact that he had reported her unseaworthy? He prepared to do so. He was told, at 1 o'clock that he was to sail in about an hour. Sundown came and no order to embark. When it was growing dark he was given the word to go. He felt that to go through the dark seas on the Biddle would be a grave peril that might result in the loss of the boat and his crew, for whom, as Commander, he was personally responsible. So he telephoned the commandant and told him that if he still insisted on the order he (Saufley) would take her out alone, but under protest.

"As I am informed the commandant declined to take responsibility of sending out Saufley under the Ensign's protest, but offered the services of a pilot. This Saufley indignantly refused, considering it a reflection on his seamanship, which never before had been called into question.

"The commandant then preferred charges against Saufley, stating, I am told, that the Ensign's conduct was unofficer like, and carrying the intimation that he was afraid to take out the Biddle. Considering that he had brought up the boat from Charleston, had taken her to New York and back to Annapolis and later, in the daytime, took her to Annapolis again, this seems very thinly based.

"If these facts are correct and I believe them to be, Saufley deserves complete vindication and if any one gets into trouble it will more likely be someone else."

From another source it was suggested that Commandant Patton, incorrectly referred to in previous as Doyle, is a marinet, and, considering that his dignity had been offended by Saufley, because the latter used the telephone in making his protest, instead of coming in person. It was also said that the independence of the young Kentuckian, contrasted with kowtowings to the commandant on the part of other ensigns had offended Patton.

HOUSE BURNS DOWN.

Residence Occupied By E. B. Glascock Catches From Flue.

Catching fire from the kitchen flue, the small cottage owned by Tom Pence, and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Glascock on Hustonville street, burned down last Thursday night. The alarm was given about 12 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Glascock were awakened by smoke in their sleeping room and managed to get out safely and save most of their furniture. The house was valued at about $800 or $1,000, and was insured for $250 with J. D. Wearlen. The fire laddies turned out quickly, but the flames had spread so fast there was no chance to save the building.

You're always safe when insured in the companies represented by J. D. Wearlen, the Insurance Man, of Stanford. See him before the fire.

LINGEMAN RESIGNS

High School Teacher to Finish Course at University.

R. S. Lingeman, who has been teaching the high school pupils in the Stanford Graded and High School, handed his resignation to the Board of Trustees last week, assigning as his reason that he wished to finish a course in the University of Indiana, whence he came to take the local position. Prof. Lingeman had made many friends here during his short stay, who will regret that he found it necessary to leave.

Garvey Kemper, a graduate of Georgetown College who comes well recommended by President Arthur Yager, of that institution, was chosen by the Board to fill the vacancy and will be here in time to take up the work next Tuesday.

ANDERSON-BREINICH

A number of friends and loved ones were present at Crab Orchard last week to witness the solemn ceremony performed by Rev. J. G. Livingston, which joined together heart and hand, Miss Cora Anderson and Mr. John Breinich. The bride was tastefully attired in a blue traveling suit. After all had extended hearty congratulations a delicious wedding dinner was spread by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Anderson. The groom is a fine young man of the Ottemheim section and is to be congratulated upon winning such a beautiful young lady. The young couple soon after took their departure for Louisville where they will make their future home. May their pathway be strewn with roses and nothing come to mar their happiness is the wish of

CHARLEY LUTES

Writes of Horse and Mule Conditions in the South.

Goldsboro, N. C., Dec. 20.

Editor Interior Journal:—

As I promised you when I left Stanford I would give you some news occasionally, I write now to tell you our business here so far has been very satisfactory, indeed, the mules are considerably lower than last season on account of cotton being so much lower than before. Cotton here today is worth 8 1-2 to 9 cents a pound whereas last year it was worth 14 to 15 cents. Last year a bale of cotton was worth to the farmer $65 to $70 and the same bale of cotton this year will only bring the farmer about $40. So you can see it means a big shortage of money to the farmer of the South. And it is very easy to see why mules would naturally have to sell lower. But the people who will suffer most from the decrease in the price of mules are those who bought mules at high prices in August and September and fed them high priced feed, expecting to get the high prices of the last few years for their mules when ready for market.

We are located in a very fine farming country and our trade demands the very best cotton mule that grows. We have opened two branch sale stables, one at Fremont, N. C., a little country town of about 600 population. It is about 12 miles from Goldsboro, and our other stable is at LAGRANGE, a town about the size of Stanford and located about 15 miles from here. S. J. Myers, of Stanford, is in charge of our business at La Grange.

We have a very fine climate here. Goldsboro is a thriving little city of 12,000 population. Yours truly,
CHAS. LUTES.

PARALYTIC STROKE

Sustained by Mrs. J. J. McRoberts
Who is in Serious Condition

Her many friends will regret to learn that Mrs. Mollie McRoberts, widow of the late J. J. McRoberts, is very ill at her home on Main street, having suffered a paralytic stroke which has affected one side and deprived her of the power of speech. Mrs. McRoberts has been in ill health for some time, but the paralytic stroke came totally unexpected and her many friends are greatly worried over her condition.

CHRISTMAS WHISKY

MAKES "BAD" NEGROES
"Young" Anderson Carr Gives Officers a Hard Fight And Others

Run Amuck in Town

Several local negroes got too much Christmas whisky and "out up" so much that they will spend some time at hard labor thinking on how hard is the way of the transgressor.

"Young" Anderson Carr got in bad early Saturday evening. A. J. Tamme the well known tobacco man says that the negro tried to rob him in front of McCarty's soft drink stand where Carr has been working. Deputy Marshal John Meeks saw the disturbance and went across the street to arrest Carr. The negro showed fight, however, and Meeks was forced to draw his gun on him. McCarty pulled him inside the door just as the officer was about to shoot and undoubtedly saved the negro's life. Carr got away and slipped out, going home after his gun and sending Meeks and McCarty word that he was going to "get" them both. Sheriff McCarty happened to be in the place when he returned and promptly placed him under arrest and took him to jail. The Sheriff, Jailer Dick Farmer and Craig Camden were searching Carr in the jail office and were about to get to his gun when he gave a sudden leap, jumped under the arms of the officers and got away out the door. Sheriff McCarty fired twice at him but did not hit him, and he escaped in the darkness. Marshal B. D. Carter caught him a little later, however, by a ruse, and locked him up. Police Judge Menefee fined him $50 and costs Tuesday.

Sam Owens Hocker, another negro, who is serving nine months in jail for shooting Sole Craig to death and who has been more or less of a trusty, was sent out on an errand Saturday night, and got hold of some whisky. He had a fight with several negroes and cut up one at Beazley's stable.

Lee Craig and Sam Helm also colored, discarded the same night, and Craig was badly slashed with a razor in the personal encounter that followed.

Christmas whisky came in by the gallon to negroes in town last week and it's a wonder that there were no more serious affairs in this city.

"I had seen trouble with constipation for two years and tried all of the best physicians in Bristol, Tenn., and they could do nothing for me," writes Ths. E. Williams, Middlesboro, Ky. "Two packages of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets cured me." For sale by all dealers.

DAVIS' STORE

W. P. Adams, who has been working in Illinois, came home to spend Christmas with his mother and other relatives. He reports some very cold weather in that section.

Cyrus James is suffering from a painful wound in his foot, caused by stepping on a nail.

Business seems to be at a standstill in this section except plug horse trading and many of our neighbors are getting rich off one another trading plug horses.

Rube Adams had a milk cow to die last week.

W. A. Owens has just completed a ten days' course of teaching vocal music at Pine Grove church with seemingly good success.

John Breinich, who has lately returned from Chicago and Miss Cora Anderson were married at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Arch Anderson Saturday week. The bride is a popular and handsome young lady, while the groom is an enterprising and industrious young German farmer.

There was a Christmas tree at Chappell's Gap school house the last day of school, and all the little ones had a big time.

Ollie Kidd and wife, and J. L. Kidd and wife have gone to Poin-dexter to spend the holidays with relatives.

Arthur Kidd, of Poin-dexter, was in this section a few days on business.

Miss Oda Warren gave a party at her father's home, Milton Warren Friday night. There were 75 guests present and delightful refreshments were served and all went away feeling that they had been most delightfully entertained.

NO MORE OVERDRAFTS

The three banks here have very sensibly decided to cut out the overdraft business. This is an exceedingly sensible move and it will rebound to the good of both the banking institutions and the patrons of the banks. We notice that the last statement of one of the banks here shows an overdraft of over seven thousand dollars. Six per cent. on this amount is one thousand and twenty dollars that the bank is denied the privilege of getting. Besides this the permission of overdrafting makes a certain class of people anticipate and then they go on living from hand to mouth. In many banks the enormous overdraft is carried by only a few influential depositors. This does not help the bank an iota and those persons can easily borrow money from the bank and pay interest. The overdrawing business is permitted in Central Kentucky more than probably any other section. Competition frequently makes the bank allow it and they rob the institution of the use of a considerable amount of money. Think of a bank with $150,000 deposit and $17,000 overdraft—nearly a ninth of the deposit used in overdraft. There is little wonder that the banks have a hard time declaring even the small six per cent. dividends yearly, and it surprises us to know that some of them are able to do that. A certain class are not allowed to draw a dollar over their deposit and this is where the injustice of the overdraft business also comes in. We think our banks have made a judicious move in agreeing to abolish the whole business and feel that they and their patrons will both profit by the elimination.

The ministers of Lincoln county have been appointed as a press committee to bring before the people of Lincoln county the issues in the local whisky election. They have engaged a column in each issue of the I. J. from now until the time of Passes Away At Wavnesburg, Ky. In Years And Good Works.

Wavnesburg, Ky., Dec. 20

Mrs. Polly A. Singleton, the grand mother of your correspondent, passed from her habitation here into the great beyond Thursday evening December 14th. She had only been ill a few days with pneumonia. She was almost 86 years of age, and had lived a faithful Christian life having been a devoted member of the Double Springs Baptist church for 70 years and has said repeatedly that she was ready to meet the day of judgment. She is survived by seven children, three sons and four daughters viz: W. R. Singleton, J. C. Singleton, Mrs. Talitha Morgan, Belle Curtis, Sara Nolan and Mrs. Ermine Ball and many grand children, who have spent many happy hours with her. We were, oh so sorry to have her leave us, but can only bow our heads and say "The Lord's will be done."

After funeral services by Rev. C. T. Claunch, the remains were laid to rest in the family graveyard near Embury.

We wish to extend our thanks to the numerous friends and neighbors who were so kind to us in our bereavement, also Bro. Claunch for his kindness and cheering words.

CONGRESSMAN HELM

Working Hard To Get Money For 8th District Claimants

In the Omnibus War Claims Bill just reported to the House of Representatives at Washington, and expected to pass this session, Congressman Helm has had inserted the claims of more interested claimants of the Eighth Kentucky District than is in the bill from the other Congressional Districts of Kentucky combined. In this list is a claim of $1,050 for the Crab Orchard Baptist church. With a democratic house and his experience and commanding position in Congress, Mr. Helm has a splendid chance to get favorable consideration for his constituents, something a new man would have a mighty hard time accomplishing.

EATS WHAT HE LIKES
AFTER TAKING FREE SAMPLE

It will be welcome news to dyspeptics to learn of a remedy that, in the opinion of thousands, is an absolute cure for indigestion and all forms of stomach trouble, and, better still, it is guaranteed to do so. The remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

We all know the value of pure pepsin in indigestion, and add to this some exceptional laxative ingredients and you have a truly wonderful remedy. Mr. T. W. Worthy of Forsyth, Ga., got to the point where he could not even eat or digest vegetables and after many years of seeking he found the cure in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Mr. Rudy Kasper of Melrose, Ill., was in the same bad predicament with his stomach, took Syrup Pepsin and is now cured. Hundreds of others would gladly testify.

It is a guaranteed cure for indigestion, constipation, biliousness, headache, gas on the stomach and similar complaints. A bottle can be had at any drug store for fifty cents or a dollar, but if you wish to make a test of it first send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will supply a free sample bottle, sent direct to your address. You will soon admit that you have found something to replace cathartics, breath perfumes and other temporary reliefs. Syrup Pepsin will cure you permanently.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has watched in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him, Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 322 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

A Warm Bathroom

PERFECTION

Every mother should be careful that the children take their baths in a warm room. The chill of a cold room is dangerous after coming out of the hot water.

A Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater brings bathroom or bedroom to just the degree of warmth you want in five or ten minutes. All you have to do is to touch a match.

The Perfection Heater burns nine hours on one filling and is always ready for use. You can move it anywhere it is needed. There is no waste of fuel and heat warming unoccupied rooms. Just the heat you want, when and where you want it.

The Perfection is fitted with an automatic-locking flame spreader that prevents the wick being turned high enough to smoke and is easy to remove and drop back when cleaning.

Drums finished either in turquoise-blue enamel or plain steel; light and ornamental, yet strong and durable—suitable for any room in any house.

WHAT SAVED
HER LIFE

Mrs. Martin Tells About a Painful Experience that Might Have Ended Seriously.

Rivesville, W. Va.—Mrs. Dora Martin, in a letter from Rivesville, writes: "For three years, I suffered with womanly troubles, and had pains in my back and side. I was nervous and could not sleep at night."

The doctor could not help me. He said I would have to be operated on before I could get better. I thought I would try using Cardui.

Now, I am entirely well. I am sure Cardui saved my life. I will never be without Cardui in my home. I recommend it to my friends."

For fifty years, Cardui has been relieving pain and distress caused by womanly trouble. It will surely help you. It goes to the spot—reaches the trouble—relieves the symptoms, and drives away the cause.

If you suffer from any symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardui. Your druggist sells and recommends it. Get a bottle from him today.

The postoffice department has issued a special registration stamp, so that it can be more easily distinguished by mail clerks. Postmaster Florence has received some for sale here. The new stamp is oblong in shape, of light blue color with an eagle with extended wings sitting on a rock, pictured on it. Heretofore any kind of a stamp or stamps could be used on a registered letter or package, and frequently the letters so stamped were overlooked by the clerks and not taken through the regular registry channels. To avoid any such mistakes in future the new stamps will be put into use. The price of the stamp will be ten cents.

TEMPERANCE COLUMN

This space is engaged by the Temperance Committee of Lincoln County.

The following taken from the Louisville Evening Post, descriptive of conditions following the opening of saloons in Bowling Green, should prove of great interest to the citizens of Lincoln county, in view of the coming election on February 10.

"It is interesting to compare the moral effect resulting from the first three days under the open saloon, and the period known as no saloon regime, as shown in the records of the police department. The first day of the reopening of the saloons there were 14 arrests, as compared with one arrest on the day following the closing of the saloons May 1st 1908.

"The three day record shows total arrests of twenty four, of which number fifteen were for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, and the balance, save for one or two exceptions, were the results of liquor, during these days there was one shooting affray one, cutting escape, one free-for-all fight among negroes and several near shooting or cutting affrays.

"The arrests for drunkenness were few as compared with the number seen under the influence of liquor, but who were spirited away by friends before arrests could be made.

"There was probably more liquor drunk in Bowling Green the first three days of open saloons than during the last six months of no saloons."

The above quotation is very mildly descriptive of what we may expect to have in Stanford and Lincoln county should the saloon return for in addition to a large percent of our own population who will be patrons of the drink shops, we will be the center of distribution for Gattard, Boyle, Casey and Rockcastle counties, where there are no saloons. To even suggest this, is only to bring back unpleasant memories of other days to the citizens of our county, and especially those who live along the highways. In those days it was dangerous for the women and children to go away from home without an escort for fear of meeting some drunken rowdy and being subjected to insult and perhaps violence.

The people of Stanford and Lincoln county are justly proud of their schools, and it indeed refreshing each morning to see the great number of children driving into town to take advantage of their opportunity for an education but if the saloon should be voted back, what parents could afford to send sons and daughters to school in town, without sending a man with them, running the risk of having them meet alone the drunken rowdies that are sure to infest our thoroughfares?

This condition will compel those living in the country who send their children to school in town, to send them elsewhere or let them go uneducated.

So much for those who live in the country in our county, but how about those who are contemplating moving to this county because of the superior advantages we have to offer? Any thoughtful man knows they will abandon the idea and seek a home where there are no saloons, and thus we will be deprived of their presence and also their money. Every man who thinks, knows there can be only one motive behind the efforts of those who are seeking to return saloons to Lincoln county, and that is that a few men in the county want to make money by selling whisky.

Particularly the Ladies.

Not only pleasant and refreshing to the taste, but gently cleansing and sweetening to the system, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is particularly adapted to ladies and children, and beneficial in all cases in which a wholesome, strengthening and effective laxative should be used. It is perfectly safe at all times and dispels colds, headaches and the pains caused by indigestion and constipation so promptly and effectively that it is the one perfect family laxative which gives satisfaction to all and is recommended by millions of families who have used it and who have personal knowledge of its excellence.

Its wonderful popularity, however, has led unscrupulous dealers to offer imitations which act unsatisfactorily. Therefore, when buying, to get its beneficial effects, always note the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package of the genuine Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

For sale by all leading druggists. Price 50 cents per bottle.

D. F. Rankin shipped three carloads of mules from this section to Georgia, one load meeting with a smash-up en route 17 head receiving such injuries as to make them practically worthless.

Rod Warfield, of Elizabethtown, has returned from Atlanta, Ga., where he disposed of one load of mules, and from where he shipped another to Montezuma, Ga., to be sold on the retail market. He reports the market is exceedingly dull.

At the sale of Gus Giesl in the East End last week splendid prices were realized. A good crowd was in attendance, the bidding was spirited and Col. J. P. Chandler kept things moving. Aged mares sold from $75 to $100; fillies from $75 to $80; cows from $25 to $30; weanling calves $8 a head; his fine jack was taken down at $487; suckling mules sold from $40 to $60; hogs from $3 to $8 a head; sows and pigs brought from $20 to $23; farming tools sold well. Mr. Giesl rented 100 acres of his place with no house on it to August Bartels for $380.

NOTICE OF ELECTION

Regular term Lincoln county court held fifth day of December, 1911, Hon. James P. Bailey Judge presiding.

In Re J. G. Weatherford and others, petition for local option election.

Upon the hearing of the above styled cause, P. M. McRoberts, an Attorney, appeared before the court and moved the court to file a certain paper, which he then presented, and which is in words and figures as follows:

"In Re J. G. Weatherford and others, petition for local option election.

Now comes, J. A. Allen, C. E. Tate L. G. Gooch, W. R. Singleton, R. Y. Ballard, G. C. Riffe, S. G. McKinney, Rufus Lipps, James Yowell, W. A. Coffey and other citizens, residents and voters in Lincoln county Kentucky, and moved the court to continue the hearing of this case, until Thursday December 14th, 1911 in order that the above persons and others opposed to the holding of said election, may have an opportunity to examine the list of petitioners filed herein, to the end that all persons signing said petition, who are not legal voters, and whose names are improperly signed and appear thereon may be stricken therefrom, and they state and are advised and believe that said petitioners do not contain a sufficient number of legal petitioners to authorize this court to call said election, and this motion is made in good faith and not for purposes of delay. They state that said petition was only filed on Friday December 8, 1911 and they have had no time to make a careful examination of said lists, which contains about 1750 names," and the attorneys thereon moved the court to continue the hearing of this case until Thursday, December 14th, 1911, to the filing of which paper and the making of said motion J. S. Owsley and G. D. Florence, attorneys for the petitioners objected and it appearing to the court that said P. M. McRoberts did not represent any person whose name was signed to the petition asking for said election, overruled his motion to file said paper and overruled his motion to continue the hearing of said cause.

And thereupon the petitioners by their attorneys deposited with the court the sum of $175, being the amount fixed by the court as necessary to defray the expenses of said election and the petitioners moved the court that said cause be heard and the court sustained said motion.

And it appearing to the court that at a special term of this court held Friday, December 8th, 1911 a written petition was filed and noted of record signed by a number of legal voters in each of the precincts of Lincoln county equal to and more than 25 per cent of the votes cast in said several precincts at the regular November election, 1911 asking that an election be held in said Lincoln county on February 10, 1912, for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal voters of said county who are qualified to vote at an election for county officers, upon the proposition whether or not spirituous vinous or malt liquors shall be sold, bartered or loaned in said Lincoln county, and asking that the provision of the law and prohibition be applied to druggists, and this day came said petitioners and moved the court to enter an order directing said election to be held as asked in said petition, and it appearing to the court upon the proof heard in open court upon said motion that the signatures to said petition are true and genuine signatures of the persons whose names appear thereon, and that the petitioners are legal voters in their respective precincts in said Lincoln county as set forth in said petition, and that the regular election held November 7th, 1911, is the last preceding general election held in said county, and that there are 13 voting precincts in said county, and NATURE'S ESSENCE... Extracted From Forest Plants.

Nature's laws are perfect, but disease follows if these laws are not obeyed. Go straight to nature for the cure, to the forest; there are mysteries here that we can learn for you. Take the bark of the wild-cherry tree, the root of mandrake, stone, cedar, grape root, queen's root, bloodroot and golden seal, make a scientific, scientific extract of them with just the right proportions and you have

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.
It is Dr. Pierce, with the assistance of two learned chemists, eight years of hard work, experimenting to make this pure glyceric extract and alternative of the greatest of all remedies and without the use of a particle of alcohol.

Just the sort of remedy you need to make rich, red blood, and cure that lassitude and feeling of nerve exhaustion. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery bears the stamp of PUBLIC APPROVAL and has sold more largely in the past forty years than any other blood purifier and stomach tonic.

"Some time ago I got out of health—my stomach seemed to be the worst of the trouble," writes Mrs. E. A. Williams, of Bellevue, Kan. "I commenced to do with all the doctors at home as well as with other specialists on stomach and digestive organs. None seemed to do any good. In fact, most of the medicines did me harm. Finally, I wrote to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., who replied, stating that I had liver complaint with indigestion and constipation, and advised Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Pellets."

"The Discovery and Pellets" have "put me on my feet again" and seemed to be just what I needed. I could not have recovered without them."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for liver ills.

SAM ROBINSON

that the number of petitioners from each of said voting precincts is equal to and more than 25 per cent of the votes respectively cast in said precincts at the regular November election, 1911, which is the last preceding general election held in said county, it is now ordered and adjudged by the court that an election be and is hereby ordered to be held in Lincoln county, Ky., on Saturday February 10th 1912, for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal voters of said county, who are qualified to vote at an election for county officers, upon the proposition, whether or not spirituous vinous or malt liquors shall be sold, bartered or loaned in said Lincoln county. And it is further adjudged by the court that the provision of the law and the prohibition shall apply to druggists.

And W. L. McCarty, Sheriff of Lincoln county is hereby ordered to open a poll in each and all of the voting precincts of Lincoln county on February 10th 1912, for the purpose of holding said election as herein ordered, and he is directed to publish the order and call for said election in the Interior Journal a newspaper published at Stanford, Ky., for at least two weeks before the 10th day of February, 1912, the date of said election, and he will also advertise same by printed hand bills posted at one or more conspicuous places in each voting precinct of said county for at least two weeks before said election.

The form of the question to be placed on the ballot is as follows:

"Are you in favor of the sale, barter or loan in Lincoln county, Ky., of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors. The provision of the local option law and prohibition shall apply to druggists."

Attest: G. B. COOPER, Clerk Lincoln County Court.

Notice is hereby given that in obedience to the above order of the County Court of Lincoln county, that said election will be held by me at the time above stated, W. L. McCarty Sheriff Lincoln County.

Cured by His Own Home Town

Hopkinsville, Ky., J. W. Jordan, a well known dentist living on Kentucky avenue, near 7th Street, tells the way for his fellow townsman to be cured of kidney and bladder trouble as he himself was cured. "I had suffered trouble in a very bad form and a doctor performed an operation, but the first relief I had was after taking Foley's Pills. They have done for me more good than anything else I have tried. I used to have a terrible pain across my back but since taking Foley's Kidney Pills I have had no pain and gladly recommend them to all who have kidney trouble." Laugars and Turner.
